Short & Sweet

Hi Everyone!

What represents real strength in a person's character? When I was much younger, it seemed to be determined by the volume of their voice or how much of a temper tantrum they were capable of displaying! I found both quite intimidating! On a trip through various countries in Asia, I got a different perspective on the whole subject!

During my trip to Asia, I was supposed to be in charge of another particular person (the organization paid me with an Indian dinner in Tokyo.) As the trip progressed, it became very apparent that THEY had gotten a ridiculously good deal! This woman's behavior and mouth had me apologizing and bowing all over Asia! I learned to say, "I am sorry" in a number of different languages and learned the correct bowing technique for each country (they were all different!) I also got rather good at doing the apologizing and the bowing WHILE walking backwards! One time, it was even going up a flight of stairs backwards (Ironically, that was the Indian restaurant!!)

I found myself literally doing the maneuver in EVERY location we went! Somehow, she felt justified in making other people around her feel less important than she was; not a positive quality in an individual!! She was quite talented with raising her voice (in countries where people do NOT talk loudly) and creating rather impressive temper explosions!

I came to understand, by observing other people's reaction to her various displays, that a loud voice and aggressive behavior were in reality less impressive!! From that "interesting" adventure, I learned that you will be respected much more for being able to put the other person first, accept responsibility for any wrong things you have done (which everyone has!) and be humble. The simple truth is that none of us is perfect. (That is a difficult thing for some members of Mensa to accept!) The next time you are feeling omniscient or omnipotent remind yourself that it is NOT possible, and just get on with things...

I was left with one question: If the same scenario were to happen to me at my present age, how would I handle it?! I realized that I would most likely still act as the mediator and try to calm situations down. Visiting another country is very much like being a guest in someone's home; politeness and respect go a long way to create an appreciation for one another's differences as well as similarities.

Hope to see you soon,

Julie Stout

Just a Couple of Reminders

Saturday, February 2nd from 10 until 4, Barnes & Noble in Pittsford is hosting a benefit for Hochstein Music School. All items purchased under the school's name will result in a donation to the Hochstein Music School.

Saturday, February 16th from 11 until 6, Casa Larga Vineyards is hosting the 5th Annual New York State Ice Wine and Culinary Festival. The cost is $49 per person pre sale, $59 at the door.

Both of these events were considered to be "of interest" but are not actual RAM events. Think of it more as a matter of "You're on your own, have fun!" ☺

Member Recognition

On behalf of all RAM members, we would like to extend a warm welcome to our newest members: Congratulations, welcome to the group, and we hope to see you at a RAM event soon!

About Our Cover and "Centerfold" Photos

This month's photo is A RAM Happy New Year, January 3, 2013, Copyright © 2013 Loretta W., taken at our January First Thirstday at Sticky Lips Juke Joint on Jefferson Road in Henrietta. Sorry if you missed this event but we hope you can join us next time out!

The picture we use for our cover and centerfold is open to all who care to participate. If you have attended a recent RAM event and would like to suggest one of your own photos, send it in! The criteria are fairly simple: It must be an original photograph submitted by anyone – RAM member or non-member – depicting anything of interest from a recent RAM event. Other than a few editorial and/or technical details, that's pretty much it! Feel free to call or see the Web site for complete details.

More on DAMNations, March 22-24, 2013

Dayton Area Mensa Extends a Special Invitation to Parents of Grade School Age Children and Teens. DAMNations has built an exciting program not only for adults, but a parallel program for adults to enjoy with their children. Open the day with a Renaissance theatre performance followed by a bird of prey demonstration. Then it's off to watch robots and an award winning and nationwide acclaimed professor and author on... comic books. If the kids don't want to do any of these or Mom and Dad want to visit our other amazing lecturers, we have a kid's playroom.

The DAMNations Kids Room is strictly Off Limits to roaming adults. It will have an Xbox with age appropriate games, Legos, K'Nex, puzzles, art supplies, and kid food. It has a large bay window and is located right off the gaming area so you can watch your children while you play games.

(Registration information is included in Betsy's reMARK.)

SOMETHING NEW, AGAIN! This month we are going to try something just a little bit different, but also something that has worked well in the past: We are combining our regularly scheduled "First Thirstday" event with a new concept, a "Laptop Night!" Participation in the "Laptop" portion of the event is optional, but because MacGregor's has WiFi available, some of us are planning to bring our laptop computers and share tip and tricks that hopefully will benefit one and all.

MacGregor's has been described as "a beer lover's paradise" and they have an inviting menu of appetizers, soups, salads, sandwiches, and entrées as well. MacGregor's has been a long-time group favorite, but this is a different location, found at "the bottom of the hill" on Empire Boulevard, on the south side. We hope to see you there! No RSVP required; look for the yellow balloon.

RAM Youth Field Trip – Sunday, February 17, 2013 12:00 noon

Wild Wings Nature Center (In Mendon Ponds Park)
27 Pond Road 585.334.7790
Honeoye Falls, NY 14472 WildWingsInc.org

To All Young Mensa Members:

I am Madelyn MacLaughlin and would like to invite everyone, but especially our younger Mensans and family members, on a field trip to Wild Wings. I am an 11-year-old 6th grader and have noticed that there aren't many trips specifically for younger Mensans, so I decided to organize this one hoping to meet other local Mensa kids! Wild Wings hosts birds of prey that have been injured and cannot be released back into the wild. There is also a trail next to the Wild Wings building that you can walk on (Birdsong Trail) and birds will eat from your hand! You can purchase the birdseed on site for a nominal fee. Check out their Web site! Hope to see you there!

~ Madelyn MacLaughlin

PS – We're considering even more fun (and food) afterward at Cottage Hotel of Mendon. It's at 1390 Pittsford Mendon Rd in Mendon, at the corner of Routes 64 & 251. Come with us; we'll decide together!

reMARK by Betsy Yvonne Mark, RVC3 – February, 2013

Happy Valentine's Day!

It's membership renewal time. I hope you took advantage of last year's rates and renewed before January 1. I did hear from many of you about the increase in dues. Some renewed as Life Members – what a way to avoid ever having to get those renewal packets again! Some renewed for 3 or 5 years and some for 1 year. Some will renew at the new rates – the new Life Member rates may be even less for many! Some are still considering. Mensa means different things to each of us. Regardless of membership status, friends made are friends. I remember well when Ed (of blessed memory) was in law school and we had no money for luxuries. Mensa was not then, and never was before or since, a luxury. We remained members. I hope you decide to do the same.

I am already tired of winter - as I write this, we've all had too much snow. As you are reading this, I will have enjoyed a week in Florida – definitely not enough time away in warmth. Spring cannot come soon enough.

I hope you will be in Miamisburg as Dayton Area Mensa hosts DAMNations 26: Triskadeka Times Two (or times three because it's 2013!) (My last AMC meeting is the same weekend and I will be in Washington, D.C., wishing I were there.) Talks and presentations; games and tournaments; five meals by the famous Dayton Hospitality team; music and dancing; late-night conversations, and general silliness! Registration
